"Old Ironsides" Takes to Sea Again

The old U. S. Battleship "Constitution," refitted to stand the rigors of old ocean after 44 years of inactivity, is shown being towed out into Boston harbor. She is to be taken on an exhibition tour to American seaports.

Tomatoes for Thrift

HOUSEWIVES who have been stocking their shelves with canned tomatoes, in these days when solid pack tomatoes of fancy grade cost little less than one used to pay for the other grades, will find ample use for them in summer dishes even though they serve fresh tomatoes generously. You can probably get more different dishes from tomatoes than any other one vegetable excepting potatoes. And summer tomato dishes are very different from winter ones.

For example, chilled tomato soup, should be served often on the summer menu, because while they are a delicacy as far as taste is concerned, the vitamins they contain are a real essential to health. Tomato bisques are also excellent for a first course of meals consisting of cold meats and salads. And tomato cocktails bid fair to be more popular than ever this summer, since so many new recipes have been devised for concocting them.

Even for breakfast, tomatoes are useful. In making an eight-egg omelet, two cups of tomatoes drained and poured into the beaten eggs, add to the flavor, and the juice drained from them is a delectable morning drink. A tasty luncheon dish is Frozen Tomato Salad which is especially good served with thin toasted cheese wafers. Potato salad in tomato aspic is also a nourishing and tempting noon-day dish.

Cold and Colorful

Here is a new tomato delicacy you will like:

Frappéd Tomatoes: Remove the paper from an 8-ounce can of tomato sauce and immerse in a mixture of ice and salt for four hours (or freeze in your automatic refrigerator). Remove top from can and slice the frozen mold. Slice thin and lay in beds of shredded lettuce. Serve with the meat course.*

The Appomattox Golf Club were guests of the Brookneal Club yesterday, and while there the Brookneal Club showed some wonderful stunts and took a contest from our boys with a score of ten to two. Our boys have been on a visit to South Boston also, and these out-of-town clubs will give our boys return games soon.

A prominent merchant of this county, who has a wooden leg and likes his jokes, asked a salvation army girl if she'd give him something and help him out as he was very poor. She was at once sympathetic and offered him a coin. Seeing the joke turned on him, and all the onlookers laughing at his expense, he added to his expense and dropped some money in her tamberine.

Mrs. W. A. Staples at the foot of Candler's Mountain gathered many of the descendants as well as relatives and friends of Mrs. Edward N. Wooldridge in celebration of her 90th birthday. A most bountiful supper spread on tables on the lawn was served in picnic style. A beautiful and sincere prayer and blessing was uttered by Mr. E. N. Wooldridge.

Among those present were the six living children: J. N. Wooldridge, E. N. Wooldridge, W. A. Wooldridge, F. E. Wooldridge, Mrs. W. A. Staples and Mrs. S. L. Evans; also twenty grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren. Other relatives and friends increased the gathering to a total of 71 persons. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all, and the enfeebled mother was made glad at the gathering of those whose happy lives she has made possible.

For 56 years, Mrs. Wooldridge was a resident of Appomattox County. Time has been kind to her, but has taken also much away, leaving the vacancies never to be filled. In the year 1900 she forfeited her son, Lawson Wooldridge. In 1916 her daughter, Mrs. Dolly Foster was taken. In 1918 she surrendered her husband, Edward N. Wooldridge, who was a confederate veteran, having fought through all four years of the Civil War. In 1928 the going of her son, John L. Inge and in 1929 giving up her most faithful daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. N. Wooldridge, left sokrs never to be healed.

The old home in Appomattox still stands in very much of its original structure and is owned by Mr. F. E. Wooldridge.

The birthday celebration of Saturday was arranged and planned for by Mrs. E. N. Wooldridge of Lynchburg, and the enjoyable occasion will always be a bright star in the memory of the mother, as well as those who were present.

Mrs. A. F. Drinkard

A large gathering of relatives and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Drinkard, in Appomattox county, last Sunday. One hundred and twenty-five people ate dinner which was a bountiful one. and served in picnic style on the lawn. The guest list mounted to one hundred and fifty in the afternoon. Besides the surrounding counties, there were representatives from Lynchburg, Covington, Norfolk, Monroe, and Cheraw, South Carolina. The day was a very happy one for all present.

Tin-Top near Trinity Church is the home of Mrs. Drinkard, witnessed stories and greetings of the throng as it gathered about the lawn, and its spacious halls and rooms court a return of the happy event.

RE-UNIONS AND BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS

Numerous Gatherings Are Held In The County

H. C. Babcock

A delightful reunion of the Babcocks was held at the old Statham farm, the family homestead three miles from Appomattox last Sunday. Among those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Babcock; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Babcock, and children, Blanche, Homer, Fay, Marshall, Webster, and Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Babcock, of Rustburg, and children, Rose Ella, Francis, Thomas Jr., Charles Wallace, and Dwight; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Murphy; Miss Rebecca Babcock; Bradley W. Babcock, Havilah Babcock, wife, and son, Hudson Homer; A. A. Babcock, of Gladstone, his wife and daughter, June; Mrs. J. Lloyd Cates, of Burlington, N. C., and her two sons, J. Lloyd Cates, Jr., and Edwin Scott, and Mrs. Frank E. Babcock and two daughters, Mary Bell and Orpha Woolridge, and others.

A bountiful repast was served on the lawn of the old Statham place, and the seventeen grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Babcock, all of whom were present, added merriment and brought happiness to their elders. H. C. Babcock, the head of the tribe, made one of his characteristic speeches, and Mrs. H. C. Babcock supervised and planned for the occasion which annually brings so much pleasure to members of the Babcock family.

Mrs. G. B. Buchanan

Sunday witnessed the gathering of many relatives and friends of Mrs. G. B. Buchanan in a family reunion.

Thirty-six members of the family were present as follows: C. M. Buchanan and family, of Clarksville, Va., G. B. Buchanan and family, of Appomattox; W. J. Buchanan and family, of Columbia, S. C; H. M. Buchanan, of Newark, N. J, Mrs. L. A. Buchanan, of Clarksville, Va.; Garland Buchanan, of New Yory City, N. Y; Mrs. Alvin Hudson, of Montray, Va.; Mrs. Anna Lee Buchanan, Staunton, Va.; Miss Lovella Buchanan, Miss Elizabeth Buchanan, and Lewis Buchanan, of Appomattox.

A bountiful dinner was served on the lawn of her son's home, near town, the late home of Benj. Abbitt.

Mrs. Buchanan was born in Granville County, N. C., and moved to Appomattox County in December, 1929. Seh is 68 years of age, and enjoys excellent health. Her husband died last October, two years ago.

We wish this family many more happy gatherings.

Mrs. E. N. Woolridge

Saturday night, July 25th, on the beautiful green lawn of the country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Staples at the foot of Candler's Mountain, a delightful reunion was held in celebration of her 90th birthday. A most bountiful supper spread on tables on the lawn was served in picnic style. Quail and Turkey

As a result of the game feeding contest conducted by the local Appomattox and Pamplin F. F. A. chapters and sponsored by the State Game Commission, under the direction of Game Warden Connor. 50 quail were awarded as one of the third ten State prizes.

The boys fed and protected 44 coveys of birds or a total of approximately 500 quail and about 30 turkeys. Carey Carson, Estill Freeman, Sam Ford and Clyde Thomas each were awarded prizes of $1 for their individual efforts of these birds were liberated on the boys' farms where there was least danger of being hunted during the coming winter, as it was perferred that they at least nest once and they be given a chance to mix with our local quail.

The chapters plan to put on a more extensive program during the coming winter having planted 26 acres of lespedeza as a source of food supply for the birds.

Fox Hunters Invited to Appomattox

The sportsmen and business men of the town have extended an invitation to the Virginia Piedmont Fox Hunters Association to hold their annual meet at this place the last days of September and 1st day of October.

There are plenty of both red and gray foxes in this county, and should the invitation be accepted there will be possibly two hundred hunters here with their hounds, and Appomattox will have three days of thrills and fine sport. Joe LeGrand and Clem Morton are spiling for the fun and a representative has been sent to Lynchburg to present the invitation in person.

Dr. Hans Lather, president of the Reichsbank, Germany's leading financial institution, asked the Allies for a $500,000,000 loan.

TWO VIRGINIA BOYS WIN TRIPS

Will Visit Detroit in August as Guests of Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild

RICHMOND, July 30.—(Special)—When the 1931 Guild of Fisher Bodies from all parts of the country gather in Detroit next month as guests of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, two Virginia boys sponsored by Thomas Edward Mills, of Alexandria, and Hayward Henderson, of Lynchburg.

Among the judging which just ended here, the two boys were selected as among the most skilful draftsmen among the many Virginia boys who competed in the $40,000 automobile design competition, sponsored by the Guild. The judges took into consideration the work done by the boys in connection with the high school courses in which they were majoring and the drawings they submitted in the contest.

In addition to the Detroit trip, which will be taken by the boys and their two first-award winners will receive $50 each in cash and an opportunity to re-submit their models for a national award—one of the four unlimited trips abroad which are known to be awarded at Detroit following the national judging.

Besides the two second awards—one in each of the two age divisions—are Howard Hanel, of Lynchburg, and Robert Stewart, Jr., of Norfolk. Fisher boys will receive $50 each in cash and an opportunity to re-submit their designs in competition for the scholarships.

Honorable Mention for Virginia went to William Cosiburg, of Suffolk, and Ralph Underwood, of Victoria, each of whom also shared the numerous cash awards. The winners of these awards were selected by Wyatt, of Bristol, Va.; Ferguson, of Portsmouth, and Roy Underwood, of Victoria, brother of Ralph Underwood.

Virginia boys whose models did not earn awards this year have the right to re-enroll and re-enter them, with improvements if they wish, for the next year's competition. Body Craftsman's Guild judging for the 1932 next year. The same list of awards will be offered.

Quality Tobacco

Watch Your Step in Housing. Get Best Price

I have noticed that the farmers in this county have been cutting tobacco greener and greener each year, I do not know why, unless it is because they are afraid their crop will be destroyed by hail, wind storms, wildfire or some other misfortune, I can't blame them much as they have had so many misfortunes in the last few years, but my advice to them is this: Let your tobacco get ripe and by so doing you will have a better quality, more pounds and more desirable tobacco for the manufacturers, therefore it will bring a better price.

Another thing I have noticed in the last week as I have been almost all over this county, is that the tobacco crop is very irregular in maturity, I would suggest that the farmers only cut the ripe tobacco, do not try to cut clean as they go as it is hard to cure ripe and green tobacco uniformly.

I think it is just as important to pick or assort tobacco in the field as it is when preparing it for market.

I have noticed for the past seven years that red or dark red tobacco has averaged more than real dark tobacco, in other words, in type 21 Federal Grade color F has been bringing more than color D, so I would suggest to the farmers of this county to cure their tobacco red as far as possible.

I hope this letter will be of some benefit to the farmers and if there is any help I can be to them I will be glad to hear from them.

MILLERS' TOLL

Statute To Be Tested In Justice Moses Court

Case Called and Continued to August 3. Question is Whether One-Eighth or More is Legal Toll

A friendly suit has been instituted here by Burr Abbitt against the Appomattox Roller Mills for an alleged over charge of toll taken out for grinding wheat. The plaintiff is represented by the firm of Abbitt Brothers, attorneys and the case which was set to be heard here Monday afternoon has been postponed for one weeks.

It is claimed that under the law of the Virginia Code that a mill which grinds wheat for customers may charge over one-eighth for toll, whereas it is claimed that the local mill here has made a charge of one-sixth which has been the customary charge for grinding. The law it is stated further asserts that when more than one-eighth is charged that the miller must refund to farmer a fine of $10.00 for each offense and his suit is instituted as a test case to see if such a charge is legal and if it is found out that only one-eighth can be charged it will possibly affect all millers in the state where such a charge is made.

The defendant claims that a charge of one-eighth for toll applies to those mills which have only one roller but that to mills which have four or more rollers as the mill here has the one-eighth charge does not apply, and that it costs more to run wheat through a mill of four rollers than it does through just one roller. The outcome of this case which is not expected to terminate in the magistrate's court is looked forward to with much interest in this section, and it is reported here that the millers association will aid in the defense of the suit which originates here. If it is held that one-eighth for toll is all that a mill may charge for grinding wheat and that a fine of $10.00 is to be collected, for all past offenses, the fines will amount to a large sum of money since it is a practice in this section to charge one-sixth or toll instead of one-eighth.

LIBERTY BAPTIST CHURCH

Plans Being Made to Celebrate 100th Anniversary

Liberty Baptist Church, this village, is now nearly 100 years old, having been organized in 1834. During its life time of 98 years it has erected and occupied four houses of worship. The first which was a crude log structure stood on the old Abbitt farm, now owned by J. R. Rogers; the second stood on the old Evergreen road, near where J. R. Harwood now lives; the third was located at what is now known as Liberty Comer. The present structure was completed in 1914 and is conceded to be one of the most artistic as well as one of the most comodious and complete houses of worship to be found in a village of this size anywhere in the South, while the pastorium, which stands directly across the street is said to be one of the best to be found in the State of Virginia. The Church which is entirely free of debt owns much valuable land adjourning the church and pastorium. The present membership is exactly 500 while the largest ever reported to the Appomattox Association was 592. Among the churches of the association Liberty is far ahead in the matters Leghorns 20 to 23 for bulk of gifts to all benevolent, educational and missionary enterprises. The church is organized according to approved standards and is in a healthy spiritual condition. It has had an honorable and useful history, has numbered among its members many of the leading people of the county and among its pastors some of the most prominent in the denomination. Plans are being projected for a great centennial celebration the first of which is to gather data for the publishing of a detailed and accurate history from its organization to 1934. Mr. T. A. Walton is gathering the data and all members are requested to furnish him whatever information they may have.

Record Grain Crops in Appomattox

Messrs. Carson and Drinkard (near Hixburg) had two acres of rye. They grazed cows there all winter until April. From these two acres they got eighty bushels at threshing time.

Mr. W. W. O'Brien had the average yield of fifty-two bushels of wheat on a little over six acres.

The largest crops in the county so far are reported 998 bushels of wheat and oats made by Mr. Will Childress and 1700 bushels made by Carson and Drinkard on Appomattox River.

Can any county in the State beat it?

Mrs. Sally Tweedy

Mrs. Sally Tweedy, aged 90 years, who died in the old ladies home in Richmond was brought here for burial which took place Tuesday from the one o'clock train with the services conducted by Rev. W. M. Thompson. She is survived by one son but no other immediate members of the family are living. She had many relatives in this place. For a long time she made her home in Texas but for the past 12 years had made her home in Richmond. A large crowd of friends and relatives attended the burial which occurred at Caldwell cemetery, two miles southwest of town.
